ACTION 1:

User selects the 'Answer Type' icon button.

RESULT 1:

Display the 'Answer Type' list populated with the following types: All, Incorrect, Partial Credit, and Skipped

ACTION 2:

User selects 'Partial Credit'

RESULT 2:

- Display the first answer of that type and allow the 'Next' and 'Previous' buttons to navigate only through questions of the selected answer type.
- Display the 'Question Filter' icon for the selected answer type.

IF the user selects anywhere on the screen outside of the of the list box, THEN close the list box and maintain the current filter selection.

Display the list items in 1 row in the following order:

- All Questions
- Correct
- Incorrect
- Partial Credit
- Skipped

The screenshot shows the 'ELA Assessment 01' interface. At the top right, it displays '85%' and '17/20 points'. Below the header, there are navigation buttons: a left arrow, a grid icon, and a right arrow. A 'Done' button with a checkmark is on the far right. A row of five colored boxes represents different question types: 'All Questions' (grey), 'Correct' (green), 'Incorrect' (pink), 'Partial Credit' (blue), and 'Skipped' (yellow). Each box contains an icon and a count in the bottom right corner. Below this row is a color selection menu with three options: 'Red' (unselected), 'Blue' (selected, indicated by a green checkmark), and 'Purple' (unselected). A dashed orange box highlights the 'Correct', 'Incorrect', 'Partial Credit', and 'Skipped' boxes. A dashed orange arrow points from the 'Partial Credit' box to a callout box.

The screenshot shows a web interface for 'Assessments'. At the top, there is a header bar with 'Assessments' and 'Scored' tabs, and a 'Log Out' button. Below the header is a table with three columns: 'Subject', 'Assessment', and 'Teacher'. The table contains five rows of data, all for 'ELA' subject and 'P. Mann' teacher. A subject filter dropdown is located at the bottom left, showing 'All Subjects' and a filter icon. A dashed orange line points from the dropdown to the 'Subject' column header. A dashed pink line indicates a height of 16px for the table area.
